

Directory of static aggregates recycling plants operating in Great Britain

In October 2017, BDS published its latest report detailing all known static recycling operations in Great Britain. This continues the series which was started in 2003.

The sector has now increased to almost 700 individual sites, all of which are detailed in the report. Every site has been contacted and validated during the research. Also included are the office addresses of over 460 companies operating these sites.

The information includes:

- Name of company
- Estimated tonnes produced
- Details of other company activities
- Telephone number of site and office
- Contact email address
- Address of recycling site
- Number of years in recycling
- Office address
- Contact name for each company

The site and office information is delivered in an Excel spreadsheet and is available by county, region or in total. The report will be of vital use to existing aggregates recycling companies and those considering entry into this market. Suppliers of equipment and services can use the information to target new opportunities and expand their sales into the market.

The BDS Waste Planning service, available by annual subscription, includes details of new planning applications and consents for recycled aggregates plants.
